

MRS. WM. JACKSON

The news of the death of Mrs. Wm. Jackson came as a severe shock to her family and many friends. Up until Monday morning, Aug. 4 she was apparently all right. Sunday she had spent the day visiting sick friends. Early Monday morning she took suddenly ill and was rushed to the Alamosa hospital where she underwent a serious operation. She regained consciousness and for a time felt much relieved. She died suddenly Wednesday morning.

Mrs. Jackson was born at Riverton Utah, April 9, 1885. She was the daughter of Johanna Stoultz and Timothy Gilbert and was the second of five children. All have passed on but a sister, Mrs. Anna Christensen.

March 20, 1900 she was married in the Salt Lake Temple to Wm. Jackson. She was the mother of twelve children, eleven of whom are living—Mrs. Warren Rasmussen, Mrs. Lynn Smith, Mrs. Wm. G. Irvin, Lorraine, Josephine, Delwyn, Warren, Elbert, Alfred and Melvin S. Jackson. All were able to be at the funeral. One child, a boy died when but thirteen months old, while his father was on a Mission to Great Britain.

From early childhood she was active in the church auxiliary organizations, working at different times in the Primary, Sunday School, Relief Society and Mutual Improvement Association. She also spent much time in community work. She believed thoroughly, if you would have a friend, you must be a friend, and her friends were many. She was a sympathetic sincere woman and comforted many. She did not live for herself alone. She was an ideal wife and mother and trained her children in the principles of the Gospel by precept as well as by example. In spite of her many duties she read and studied much and her council and advice was ever sought after.

Mrs. Jackson's life motto was "Give to your enemy forgiveness; Give to your opponent tolerance; Give to your friend your heart; Give to your child a good example; Give to your parents deference; Give to everybody sun's shine."

Her funeral was held Friday,

August 8, 1880 at 2:00 p. m. in the Stake House. The large number in attendance and the many beautiful floral offerings attested to the high esteem in which she was held. The building was tastefully decorated by the Ward Relief Society.

Bishop Frank Brady presided at the services. The choir sang "I Need Thee Every Hour" Prayer by James A. Holman. Song "Lead Me Gently Home" by quartet—Laura Sowards, Leafy Sowards, Edward Christensen and B. H. Harrison. First speaker Brother R. M. Haynie; Song, "Shall We Meet Beyond The River", chorus—Josephine Holman, Hazel Haynie, Lizzie Jensen Hazel Christensen, Mabel De Priest, Fannie Weimer. Second speaker, Brother J. F. Thomas, Song "Some Time We'll Understand" the quartet. Benediction, John E. Boice. Interment was made in the Manassa cemetery. The grave was dedicated by Jas. A. Mortensen.

Card of Thanks

We take this means of thanking our friends and neighbors for their kind assistance and sympathy during the short illness and burial of our dear wife and mother. We assure you that such kindness is deeply appreciated and never can be forgotten.

Wm. Jackson and family.

King-Edgars

The many friends of Miss Vivian King were greatly surprised to learn of her marriage to Mr. Edgars which occurred at Antonito Saturday evening Aug. 9. Miss King is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. G. King and is a very popular member of the younger set. She was one of the peppy yell leaders of the Manassa High School last year. Mr. Edgars has been here for the past year, coming from Texas, and is known here as a very worthy young man. Their many friends extend hearty congratulations. The newly weds expect to make their home at Rocky Ford Colorado where Mr. Edgars has permanent employment.

Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Haskell and children of Del Norte are spending their vacation among relatives and friends in Manassa. They in Company with Mrs. Edd Richardson and Mrs. Hastings Harrison are spending a few days outing at the Richardson cattle range in New Mexico.

PENSIONS FOR WORLD WAR VETS

Many hundreds of Colorado World War veterans are eligible for "disability allowances" under the provisions of the Johnson act, passed by the last session of congress, according to M. L. Lyckholm, state adjutant of the American Legion.

The new law differs from former veterans' legislation in that disabled veterans need no longer trace their disability to service.

Any disabled veteran, whose disability is not due to his own misconduct, who served at least 90 days in the World War and who did not pay an income tax for the year preceding the filing of the application, is eligible for a monthly allowance.

The new law is in reality a pension measure and thus sets a precedent in legislation having to do with World War veterans.

Payments ranging from a minimum of $12 per month to a maximum of $40 will be paid for disability in excess of 25 per cent, regardless of the nature of the disability, when such disability is of a permanent nature.

The new law will be of value not only to the veterans who have become permanently disabled by disease or injury since the war, but will aid those disabled in service who heretofore have been unable to secure evidence to qualify for financial payments under the compensation act.

The old compensation law is in no way disturbed by the new legislation. By applying for an allowance under the new law a veteran loses none of his rights to compensation under the old law. Compensation as high as $100 monthly is paid, while the allowances for total permanent disability under the Johnson act carry maximum payments of $40 monthly. A veteran may secure aid under the Johnson act and later, if his application for "service connected" compensation is allowed, may waive rights to the new pension in favor of the old. The government will not, of course, make two payments to one veteran.

Disabled veterans may make application for the disability pension thru any one of the 126 American Legion posts in the state or through state Legion headquarters in the Capitol building, Denver, or directly to the United States Veterans Bureau.

M. Locals

Mrs. Emi Munday was ca Sunday.

Mrs. Veri accompanied Questa Tues

Mrs. Jess Douglas De were Manas

Mr. and M Antonito we guests of M Harrison.

Mrs. Lulu I a fine piece of and paper han of Romeo.

M s. Hastin the last week her parents, Richardson.

Miss Vivian home this week vacation at C her grandmoth

Mr. and Mrs are enjoying above Creede at sheep camp.

Little Miss 2 tertained seren Sunday afternoon event being Mis day.

Mrs. Winifre most interesting afternoon to a esters to celebr 4th birthday.

Mrs. C G. Kl R. Jack were plimetry party, King at Alamos evening.

Mrs. Mary J. several ladies afternoon at a shower in honor o Thomas.

Andres Morten daughter, Mrs. visitors from Mesa calling on old frie last Thursday.

Several youngst assa were guests party Sunday after Shirley Barton, at home near Romeo.

Mr. and Mrs. I and baby have m Romeo, into Mr Holmans place vac by Edd Carlstead at

Dr. and Mrs. T.