

64 Hamelton Rd. Chorley Lanc.
Dec. 7, 1909

My dear Mary yours at hand this morning and indeed sorry to here of the sad condition that your Dear Father is in you have my sympathy from the bottom of my heart, for I know how dearley you love him and to see him in such a condition suffering that way it is realey worse than death, and I pray that the Lord will by this time releave him from that pain or take him from this wicked world. I am glad that you are doing what you can for him.

I am shure proud of his faith fulness and that the Lord as blest me with his Daughter with some of the same qualities that he as. I don't know when I ever did feel so heartbroken as I do this morning, so much bad news. You no I will have to quit jocking I didnt mean any of that cerious a bout going to conference and a bout nagging at me. But I feel thankfull that you wase the way you ar. I am shure you could see that I was all most to apostize and I couldnet I thought I was all rite and I am thankfull you are so good, and you don't know how much influence you did have over me all though I tried not to let you no it, and I can say the happiest times of my life as been while I have been with you. Married I mean you say you never did see much pleasure which I am shure you never have, and I don't think that I have been the worst man on earth.

Well excuse me for being so tuchey. I suppose I like to give jockes but don't like to get any back, but it seames to me you are trying to break my heart. Just think I will send it back to you. (I never have had any happiness in my life anyway) and you don't know how it hearts, bless your heart I would like to be weare I could talk to you for a little while. Your just purfict in my eyes but don't tell me any thing like that again as long as you live. And if there is any thing that I can do on this earth to make you happie I will do it. I will go out every Sunday with you when I come home. may the Lord bless you with helth and strength and the children, and I am as ever your loving

Will

P.S. This is a love letter but it is from the bottom of my heart any way. Will tell you more when I come home.